What is South Dakota VOAD?

South Dakota VOAD is a network of agencies working together to foster efficient delivery of resources to people affected by disasters. The role is to support its members efforts by providing a forum to facilitate Coordination, Communication, Cooperation & Collaboration.

COORDINATION: Coordinates policy among member organizations, serves as the state liaison, advocate & voice to the National VOAD & supports the disaster response efforts of federal, state & local agencies & government.

COMMUNICATION: Encourages participation of agencies throughout the state, the formation of Regional VOADs, gives guidance to state & regional volunteer organizations active in disaster response & supports appropriate legislation.

COOPERATION: Meets South Dakota's relief & recovery needs within a cooperative framework.

COLLABORATION: Provides training to members to increase awareness & preparedness for each organization.

Mission

South Dakota Voluntary Organizations Active in Disaster (SDVOAD) is the forum where organizations share knowledge and resources throughout the disaster cycle—preparation, response and recovery—to help disaster survivors and their communities.

Values

- Our commitment to caring and compassion for all people is the foundation for all we do.
- A coordinated, inclusive approach provides the basis for a nurturing environment in which disaster response agencies will flourish.
- The quest for excellence in South Dakota VOAD programs by encouraging best practices and mutual accountability results in operational synergy.
- Our work will be accomplished in a respectful, non-judgmental, and non-discriminatory manner.
- Trust, mutual respect, and equal partnerships of community service providers are essential elements of our work.
- Providing hope – making a difference – offering opportunities for true collaboration - are the lifeblood and soul of the organization.

Thanks to the leadership of many SDVOAD organizations during the Missouri River Flood of 2011, we were able to provide over 26,000 volunteer hours to assist those in need!

Lisa Adler, SD VOAD President
